Delivering the Efficiency Requirement

A fresh approach to health consulting

The issue

In this new economic climate, the Coalition Government has announced the three streams against which the NHS will be managed - Commissioning, Public Health and Service Provision. All three areas have an increasing need to refocus on 'value for money' or more succinctly 'value for the taxpayer' in the way they commission and deliver health services, whilst at the same time improving outcomes, quality and safety that inherently point to a more efficient and effective service.

Organisations know that achieving this is no longer about trimming round the edges, using non-recurrent monies to balance the books and until pushed carrying on in the same modus operandi. Doing things differently and doing different things is difficult to put into practice – identifying resources, allocating responsibilities and just getting started can be a challenge in itself.

Our solution

Chantrey Vellacott's health practice team is made up of former NHS and private health care executive directors, all of whom have direct experience of working across organisations to develop and implement change.

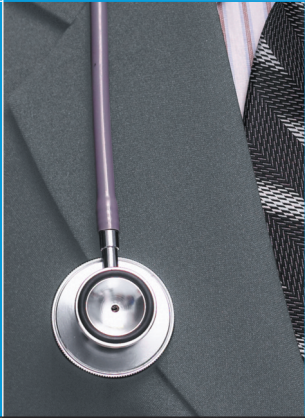

We can work with your senior team and clinicians to help identify and focus on the areas that can deliver improved value in the short, medium and longer term. Our support is tailor made for your requirements and is likely to include:

- Clinical pathways and service redesign
- Options around use of estate
- CIP programme critique and recommendations
- CIP programme project management
- Partnership arrangements
- Shared services and back office functions
- IT investments
- Development of quality and outcome metrics
- Effectiveness of contracts and risk sharing arrangements
- Business process and governance reviews
- Best practice benchmarking and intelligence

The benefits

Our support and advice will provide your board and organisation with realistic implementable options to become a more effective organisation. By freeing up senior time to concentrate on operational priorities our focussed and time limited support will work across the organisation to identify, develop and recommend schemes for change and new ways of working. Our support will dovetail with your strategic objectives, ensuring that you are fully equipped to demonstrate that QIPP has become woven into the heart of your organisation and efficiencies come from the avoidable use of NHS resources, effective partnerships and best practice.
